FISHERMEN COME TO RESCUE

Eight Syracuse Persons in Party, Driving Across Onondaga Lake—Walk Mile and Half on Ice to South Bay.

A party of twelve persons, including eight from this city, had a narrow escape from drowning late yesterday afternoon when the team of horses which was pulling their box sleigh broke through a crevice in the ice covering Onondaga lake, just east of Dunhams island. After nearly an hour's work, a number of fishermen succeeded in pulling the horses from the water and the passengers had to walk a mile and a half to South Bay. Those from Syracuse left Friday night to spend Sunday with relatives at Constantia. They were: Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Russell of No. 403 West Newell street, Jefferson Getman of No. 579 West Newell street, Miss Alice Getman of Alford street, the Misses Nina and Mary Talcott of Constantia, students at Syracuse University, Miss Mary Stevens, a student at the Central City Business School, and Miss Olive Getman.

Merry Party Starts on Ride.

It was the intention to take a train back to Syracuse yesterday afternoon, but some one suggested that it would be better sport to drive across the lake to South Bay in a large box sled, hay-rider fashion. No one objected, and in a few moments a sled had been procured from Frank Cole of Constantia, who consented to do the driving. The bottom was filled with hay and, covered well with blankets, the merry party piled into it.

Frank Beebe, Miss Beebe, William Joyce and Miles Munsell, all of Constantia, and friends of the Syracuse visitors, joined the party before the start was made and gladly consented to take the ride across the lake on the ice. This made thirteen, with the driver, and the "unlucky" number caused much joking. All went well for several miles. Just east of Dunhams island the wind had drifted the snow, covering a large crevice in the ice, a part of the one through which the teams of Frank Sahm and Theodore Hopp had broken last Thursday.

Unable to see the danger on account of the snow, Driver Cole allowed his team to walk directly into the crack and in an instant the animals were splashing about in four feet of icy water.

Fishermen Run to Help.

A sudden end was brought to the laughter and songs of the party. Almost panic-stricken, they tumbled out of the sled on to the firm ice. A party of fishermen nearby saw the accident. Getting a rope, they ran to the scene of the accident and gave their assistance to three men who had been in the sled.

The struggling of the horses weakened the ice on which the sled was standing and it was quickly unhitched and moved to a place of safety. A number of large rocks under the water gave an occasional footing for the horses and after three-quarters of an hour they were pulled back out on to the ice. The animals were again hitched to the sled and the Constantia members of the party were driven back home across the ice. The Syracuse party walked to South Bay, a distance of a mile and a half. In time to get the 6:15 o'clock trolley for the city. All were exhausted, but were fortunate enough to have kept dry.

POLICE GET SIXTEEN IN-RAID ON SALOON

Officers Find No Trouble in Corraling Them in South West Street Place.

Martin Conway, bartender, and fifteen men were corralled yesterday afternoon in a raid by the police on William J. Dorgan's saloon, No. 412 South West street. The officers had no trouble slipping into the barroom when complaint had been made that the place was doing business. All the prisoners were taken to Police Headquarters in the patrol automobile. Conway gave bail and the others were paroled to appear as witnesses.

STRUCK BY HOT IRON AT SYRACUSE FOUNDRY

Niles Gets an Ugly Wound in Leg from Bar Another Workman Was Using.

Edward Niles of Seneca Falls is at St. Joseph's Hospital with a deep wound in his right leg, the result of an accident which happened while he was working shortly before 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the plant of the Syracuse Foundry Company on the Erie canal tow-path at North Geddes street. Another workman had been using a long, pointed iron to remove dirt from some molten metal, and as he turned to "touch off" some gas that had accumulated, with the heated iron, he struck the iron in Niles' leg. Niles was hurried to the hospital in Harr's ambulance. He came to Syracuse a short time ago and boards at No. 905 North West street.

DECLARE WAR UPON CONNERS IN SYRACUSE

Local Democrats Plan Bitter Fight on Rafferty Forces.

GENERAL COMMITTEE SPLITS

George B. Mottiff Claims Chairmanship and Regularity.

FRANK MATTY IN MOVEMENT

Patrick J. McGlade and David F. Costello to Be Officers of Executive Committee—Democratic League Opposed.

Plans have been perfected by the anti-organization Democrats of Onondaga county for a movement hostile to W. J. ("Fingy") Connors as chairman of the Democratic State Committee and for the overthrow of Mr. Connors' local supporters. The movement also opposes the so-called Democratic League.

It is claimed by the Democrats who will make the fight that they have the regularly elected heads of the Democratic General Committee with them in the persons of George B. Mottiff of Manlius, chairman, and Joseph White of the Nineteenth ward, secretary.

This claim harks back to the riotous meeting for the organization of the General Committee early in December, when each of the rival factions elected officers and the Sheriff was called in.

To Name Executive Committee.

After a meeting of anti-organization Democrats held Saturday evening in the law offices of David F. Costello in the University Block it was announced by Chairman Mottiff that he would this week file with the Commissioner of Elections the names of the Executive Committee of the Democratic General Committee, which will consist of eleven members. It was stated that the officers of the Executive Committee would be former Alderman Patrick J. McGlade as chairman and David F. Costello as secretary.

A fight to a finish against State Committeeman William F. Rafferty and his political supporters locally and against State Chairman Connors was the slogan of the Saturday evening meeting.

The battle will be waged in the primaries for the election of delegates to the Democratic state convention hostile to Connors and Rafferty. So far as party regularity goes the anti-organization men lay claim to regularity and will test their case before the Mayor and perhaps in the courts when the time arrives for filing lists of election officers in July for the ensuing state election.

Claim Committee Coaltrol.

The claim is boldly made that more than seventy of the 123 accredited general committeemen of the wards and towns are favorable to Chairman Mottiff and the programme of hostility to Connors in this city and county. It is declared that the active Democrats of two-thirds of the towns are enlisted in the war on the organization and that there is practically an even break in the city with the prospect of some recruits of prominence in the near future.

Meetings have been held each week by the anti-organization men either in the offices of Frank Matty in the Manhattan or those of Mr. Costello in the University Block. At these meetings the various representatives of the towns and wards have been urged to unceasing efforts to build up the Democratic party.

Those who attended the meeting Saturday night, at which the plans for the anti-Connors fight were completed, showed very little sentiment in favor of the Democratic League which has just concluded a state meeting at Albany. Some of those who discussed the matter with a Post-Standard reporter spoke of the havoc in the Democratic ranks due to the Independence League and seemed inclined to agree with M. Z. Haven's recent statement that the Democratic party should present its own candidate and platform. It was asserted that the Democratic League was not for or against anything. It was also declared that if the league was satisfied with present conditions it was because it was lacking in courage.

Flatly Against Connors.

"We are against Connors and those who support him," said David F. Costello. "In other words we are against Connors and his stockholders. It would seem to me that the Democratic League should be either for him or against him."

Former Alderman Frank Matty who has now nearly recovered his health is a prominent factor in the local anti-Connors movement and is prepared to put up one of his long, winding fights. It is stated that all Mr. Matty's large following of personal and political friends have assured him of their loyal support in any effort to better existing conditions in the Democratic party.

"Are you in this fight?" a Post-Standard reporter asked Mr. Matty Saturday evening.

"Fight to Finish," Says Matty. "I most certainly am," he replied. "My friends know I am and I guess the other fellows will find I am soon enough. The old party seems to have gone to seed but we are going to try and change that condition. I have got my health back, thanks to Providence and I am in this fight to a finish."

Similar expressions were voiced by William H. Kelly, Francis J. Lynch, D. F. Costello, Patrick J. McGlade, William Dwyer, Thomas Murphy, August Steinbicker, Charles A. Richardson, former Alderman Charles A. King, Edward O'Brien of Baldwinsville, Michael Shea of Fabius, Michael Dixon of Salina, Chairman George B. Mottiff and many others. These united in declaring that conditions in the Democratic party must be improved or unceasing conflict ensue.

David Fikes of Elbridge said: "Letting them go as they please brings nothing but defeat on us. We might as well fight. Fighting can make things no worse and may bring about better conditions and party victory."

Calls Management Bungling.

"Harmony don't help if we always lose. We can't put up with bungling management which always leads to defeat." One thing which seemed to add to the determination to steadfastly burn the war-to-the-knife policy mapped out was hints of encouragement and alliance with

MRS. MCCARTHY DIES BEFORE DOCTOR COMES

Stricken by Death While She Was Talking With Family in Apartments at the Moore.

Death came suddenly yesterday morning to Mrs. Maria McCarthy, wife of James McCarthy, at their apartments, No. 203 The Moore, in James street. Although she had been under the care of a physician for heart disease, the fatal attack came unexpectedly while she was sitting in a chair talking with one of the family. When she was stricken a physician was called, but she was dead when he arrived.

Mrs. McCarthy was the mother of the late Dennis McCarthy, a cartoonist, whose death occurred a few years ago in New York city. She had been a resident of Syracuse many years.
